

Federal Process' Lube-It All Deep Lubricating Oil Helps Eliminate Friction, Abrasion and Corrosion Issues

In July 3, 2007 / default

Federal Process Corp.'s Lube-It All deep lubricating oil can be used on metal, plastic and electrical materials. The product is a powerful dry-film protective lubricant that helps eliminate friction, abrasion and corrosion issues on automotive and heavy-duty services. The oil has been specifically formulated to displace and repel moisture. By lubricating metal surfaces, it prevents rust and corrosion and, unlike other lubricants, does not attract dust.

Lube-It All is offered in 12- and 6-ounce spray cans and 1/2-ounce single-use bottles.

For additional information, visit freealloil.com.

